IDXPro Service from iHOUSE Web Solutions Now Includes Eight New Realtor Association MLS Boards

iHOUSE Web Solutions announces that eight additional U.S. Realtor association boards have authorized MLS-IDX search functionality on members' real estate web sites through the iHOUSE IDXPro service. Realtors can now determine whether their own MLS is among the growing list of over 300 Multiple Listing Service boards nationwide that automatically display MLS listings directly onto any website with IDXPro.

OAKLAND, CA, September 24, 2006—iHOUSE Web Solutions™, a leader in realtor web site design, hosting, and online marketing services, now offers eight additional Realtor associations' MLS-IDX data feeds for integration into any real estate website.

The IDXPro service is available for all websites, not just those who have iHOUSE websites. With IDXPro, clients can search through the entire MLS without ever leaving a realtor's web site. IDXPro also includes an interactive Google map with icons representing property listings in specific geographic areas.

The new MLS-IDX data feeds include:

- South Carolina: the Consolidated MLS
- Illinois: the Champaign County Association of Realtors
- North Carolina: Burlington Alamance County Association of Realtors
- California: Mariposa County Board of Realtors and the Shasta Association of Realtors
- New Jersey: Middlesex County Association of Realtors
- Washington: the Walla Walla Association of Realtors
- Indiana: White County Board of Realtors

Anyone can quickly find out if his or her MLS is included among those offered with the IDXPro service by visiting the iHOUSE website at <http://www.ihouseweb.com/>, and clicking on "Have my MLS?"
